Authors Presenting Multiple Papers

It is the IEEE policy to require the registration of at least one author per paper. However, the ICDE 2008 organizers have reached the following compromise trying to accommodate the new policy while not penalizing authors of multiple papers unduly:

It is acceptable to have a co-author register for a paper even if another co-author will present it. In this way, if author A has paper 5 and 10 and he is presenting both papers, it is OK for A to register for paper 5 and for another co-author who will also attend the conference to register for paper 10 even if A will present both papers 5 and 10. However, if one author is registering to present multiple papers without any coauthor attending, there will be an additional fee of 200 USD per additional paper that single person will present. In this case, please use the Multiple Papers form in addition to the regular registration form (note that the regular registration form can only include ONE paper, all other papers have to be included in the additional multiple papers form).
